The way we price events

Prices for a five hour disco or karaoke are in the region of £250. If you apply online this may be as little as £225 or even less in areas where DJs are offering discounts. Surcharges are made for extra hours (25 per hour) or flights of steps and so forth at venues. Disco karaoke also generally carries a surcharge of £25 over simple disco or karaoke.

Value For Money

MantraSound DJs offer a professional service. After twelve years in the business of DJ selection, we are increasingly able to provide our customers with an individual from a pool of peak performers who not only provide exactly the kind of music that is required, but in a way which keeps the dancefloor busy. Each DJ is regularly assessed to ensure not only the provision of quality music services, but also the assurance of great customer relations and reliability. Many DJs receive rave reviews completely unsolicited.

Shopping around on the internet for cheap disco prices may provide customers with a lower disco quote, as DJs may be booked for as little as £50 or indeed as much as £500, but it will not provide the all-round reliability and simply superb showmanship and performance skills of a MantraSound DJ.

Additional hours, variations.

Additional hours may also be booked direct with the DJ if necessary. A no-obligations quote may be obtained by using the Availability Check.

Payments.

The DJ is secured by the payment of the booking fee, which is generally £50 or £75. This triggers the dispatch of your confirmation slip and contract.

Cancellations.

Cancellation payments are governed by the terms of the contract.
